

Plastic Surgeons Get a New Marketing Information Resource

ORLANDO, FL (10/22/08)

With times as they are, keeping clients satisfied is more important than ever. Candace Crowe Design has developed a new website that helps their current business partners, as well as new associates, to strengthen their marketing plans. With features like a marketing performance quiz, which gives immediate feedback and improvement tips, www.CandaceCrowe.com acts as a free marketing information resource for plastic surgeons.

Dr. Robert Centeno, founder of St. Croix Plastic Surgery & MediSpa, calls Candace Crowe Design “ahead of or leading at the cutting edge” of the plastic surgery marketing field. The new website is a reflection of the firm’s passion for sharing their specialized marketing expertise with plastic surgery practices.

Candace Crowe, president of Candace Crowe Design, is committed to serving the plastic surgery industry. “Our clients’ success is our first priority,” says Crowe. The new website explains how to build a successful brand, or marketing position, using a system of patient education.

Using Candace Crowe’s signature products, plastic surgery practices are building patient confidence and expanding their client bases. Demonstrations of Candace Crowe’s patient education systems, such as webRevenez and Revenez Loop, are available on the site. You are invited to watch the demonstrations, read about their other services, view samples of their work, and review client testimonials.
